The meeting TPM2 in Ireland took place from 24 to 27 November 2022 in Galway City, where 18 people participated.

During the working meeting, participants discussed the progress of the creation and methodology and description of the integration model (EMI). There was also a discussion of the progress of work packages 2, 3, and 4 and a discussion of the progress of writing the book.

The participants recorded a presentation video to attract new participants to the project, as well as recorded video material to disseminate the project results on various media resources.

Thanks to the skillful management of the project, the organizers used the budget effectively and the working meeting was held at a high level. All meeting participants received Certificates of Participation.

Features of the meeting: All coordinators noted the participation of young people in the meeting. For young participants, an educational excursion to the Western part of Ireland was first organized, where young people learned about the reasons for the mass emigration of the Irish during the Great Famine (1845-1849) and the difficult life of the Irish people during the English colonization. Then, the young participants made individual presentations and told what interesting things they had learned about these difficult periods in the life of the Irish people and what specifically struck them. The presentations turned out to be very interesting.
